

NEW DIRECTORS . . . Dr. Allen Schneidemann, center, newly named vice president of the Board of Directors of the Bay Harbor Hospital, 1437 Lomita Blvd., Harbor City, discusses hospital affairs with two new directors, Carlos Villalobos, Wilmington insurance man; and Alan Davis, of San Pedro. They will play major role in future expansion plans for the non-profit hospital during the coming year.

Bay Harbor Hospital Seats New Directors

Seating of two new directors and election of officers marked the annual reorganization meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bay Harbor Hospital.

Alan Davis of San Pedro, son of former board chairman Herbert Davis; and Carlos Villalobos of Wilmington are the two new directors.

They replaced Donald P. Loker and the late Robert Hopper, both of San Pedro.

Dean Johnson of Redondo Beach was re-elected president of the board and Dr. Allen Schneidemann of San Pedro was elected vice president filling an office formerly held by Fred W. Mill of Torrance.

Other officers re-elected were Earl Johansen of San Pedro, secretary; and Vernon Walker of Harbor City, treasurer.

Frank Kredel, hospital administrator reported on the inauguration of a closed circuit television instruction program for doctors and nurses emanating from U.C.L.A. which is now being used by the hospital staff.

A contract for the preparation of plans for construction of an additional 50 or more beds to the hospital was approved with Rochlin and Baran, architects of Los Angeles. The plans for hospital expansion are part of a long range development program being planned by directors.

Law in Action

Willie Worker hesitated to retire. Long ago in business, he lost money and still owed bills. He wanted to pay them off even though he had earned his retirement.

Willie sought advice. Among other things, he heard he might settle his debts by paying them in part or by going through insolvency. But Willie disliked both these plans.

It is unlikely that Willie's creditors could force him to pay out of his social security benefits. The law protects such funds from levies; nor can you assign them to pay off future bills. The law protects them in cases of bankruptcy since their very purpose is to meet necessary living expenses first.

PENSION or retirement payments received from Willie's private employer, however, lacked such protections. The law treats most of them like "wages," half of which can be attached or garnished. Even so, Willie could ask and get a court to set aside such money as he needs for himself and his family.

The law exempts from enforced collection any pensions or retirement benefits, disability or death payments, from any government employer.

The law also shields life insurance from creditors' suits, in fact, all insurance benefits, up to premiums of $500 a year, including health insurance benefits from creditors' enforcement.

OTHER PUBLIC benefits, as a rule, such as disability payments, workmen's compensation, or public support payments are also free from creditor's claims. However, some benefits for health care may be subject to doctors or hospitals' claims.
